LUNAR LIGHT.

THIS LAMP burns with a pure white brilliant light equal to gas, and is much cheaper than gas. The Lunar Light took the first premium at the last Mechanics' Fair in Louisville. One dollar's worth of Lunar Oil gives the light of $3 16 of Lard Oil, $4 86 of Whale Oil, $9 46 of Burning Fluid, $14 26 of Candles. Half a pint burns 15 hours, costing about 5½ cents, giving a light equal to 5 or 6 star candles. Lunar Oil is not explosive, has no disagreeable smell, and is not liable to smoke. Lamps suitable for all purposes.

Premonitions of the Free-Nigger Pow Wow.

A few of the delegates to the Opposition Convention—half a dozen, perhaps—have made their appearance in our city. They have not caused business to suspend, nor turned the inhabitants of our quiet town crazy. All things seem to be going on as if these dignitaries were not present.

One of these delegates holds in his official pocket the manuscript of the Hon. Joshua F. Bell, declining to be sensible to any honors that the convention of the 22d can confer upon him. Some of the intense say, however, that this wont do, and that Mr. Bell must appear in propria persona. A messenger has been dispatched for him, with the design of bringing him here, whether he wants to come or not.

We don't suppose that the Hon. L. W. Andrews, and other aspirants, will like the efforts made to get Mr. Bell here, but they can't show more dislike than Bell has already manifested.—Bell declined through his home organ, the Danville Tribune, to have anything to do with the mongrel convention, and again has dispatched a writing over his own signature to the same effect. He has seen enough of Know Nothingism, Americanism, Oppositionism, etc., to satisfy him that the less he has to do with the monster, under whatever name it is known, the better.

We think the convention has managed things badly. Grand Secretary Duncan ought to have had a candidate arranged by secret circular.—Perhaps he has done so. He is great at secrets and circulars, and may astonish the convention with a candidate ready to be nominated and to serve.

THEATER.—Manager Mellus announces a reduction of prices this morning, at the old favorite place of amusement, corner of Green and Fourth. This will be agreeable news to the community at large, especially to that portion who understand the philosophy of amusements, and appreciate the efforts of managers to afford those of the most refined nature. We say agreeable news, but do not mean to insinuate that any individual has ever begrudged the seventy-five cents he has deposited with the urbane ticket seller at the box office.—The agreeability arises from the fact that every gentleman will feel like taking a lady whenever he attends the Theater, as the two tickets cost him but a dollar, thus giving him extra enjoyment for the trifling advance of twenty-five cents. Here there is gain on all sides: the young man is accompanied to the play by his lady friend, gets double enjoyment from the performance, and saves fifty cents; the manager sells two tickets instead of one, and makes twenty-five cents in cash by the operation; and above all, the performers, in their mimic world, finding large audiences before them, gain new strength for their arduous tasks, and redouble their exertions to please their friends, that they may receive that nectious balm to an actor's soul—appreciative applause.

There is no doubt at all but that the upper tiers will be crowded hereafter, at the low prices, which will be twenty-five cents for the second tier and fifteen cents for the third. Every boy can go to the theater now, and improve not only his manners but his morals. Twenty-five cents is easily earned, and the manners of the stage are always worth studying, while his morals will certainly be improved, as he is kept from the mischief of the streets.

Mr. Neafie commences on the second week of his engagement to-night, appearing in his favorite character of Jack Cade. It is a play well worth seeing. The laughable farce of "A Bull in a China Shop" follows.

WHARTON'S FURNITURE WAREROOMS.—Jno. A. Wharton, an old dealer in the furniture trade, on Market street, above Brook, has enlarged his business by taking the adjoining store; and he has now a very large wareroom. It is crowded from the first to the third floor with furniture and articles for housekeepers, of all varieties and description, at prices to suit purchasers. His facilities are such that he can offer bargains as good if not better than can be elsewhere obtained. While his store is stocked with articles in this line as elegant as tasts may demand, he also keeps second-hand furniture for those whose means are more limited. Those who are declining housekeeping will also find a liberal bidder in Mr. Wharton, by application as above. As those who want to buy will examine for themselves, we do not refer in detail to what he offers to the public.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT ON A GIRL.—A free negro, named Robt. Harris, attempted an outrage on a white girl, named Tracy, on Eleventh street, on Friday evening. In the absence of her mother, he dragged her from the house into an alley, holding his hand over her mouth. In her struggles she released his hand and screamed, and the fellow got frightened and run off. He was searched for, but eluded pursuit until Saturday, when Policeman Farleigh captured him on the steamer Alvin Adams, at Portland. An investigation will be had in the case this morning.

TWO BIRDS WITH ONE STONE.—We mentioned, a few days since, the arrest of one Jas. Moore with Richard Loring, the thief and mail robber. There was no particular charge against Moore, but, as the policemen inferred, he was in suspicious company. They were right, for it turns out that, although Moore had no connection with the operations of his associate, he did steal a shell box, with a $800 check in it, from a woman up town. See police report.

☞ It is thought by some that the Oppositionists of the to-morrow's convention will choose another name for themselves if they assemble in good numbers, and call themselves the Twenty-second-of-February-ists, or something of that kind. Wonder if they will oppose every other day in the year if they take this name?

☞ Policemen John Lamborne and Howard arrested five men at the City Hotel, on Saturday night, where they were kicking up a muss and playing the deuce generally. The fellows were all in one room, and in one, bed until they broke it down and tumbled out. The same men have been acting disgracefully at other places before.

THE OPPOSITION CONVENTION.—A number of Know Nothings have already arrived, with a view of attending the Opposition Convention, to be held to-morrow. Prominent among these, of the members of the late Know Nothing party, are Ex-Gov. Letcher, W. C. Anderson, of Boyle, Phil. Thompson, of Mercer, and Jno. B. Huston, of Chaik.

☞ The surest method of securing long life is by the prevention of those dangers that endanger health. In the blood we find most of the causes of all diseases, and if this is kept pure health is certain. The celebrated Hurley's Sarsaparilla acts as a purifier of the system, and as such is an inestimable preserver of life and happiness.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—The chimney of a building on Fifth street, between Jefferson and Green streets, was knocked to pieces by the lightning on Saturday. Fortunately no other damage was done, but the scaring of the inmates by the shock.

THE PICCOLOMINI EXCITEMENT.—This famous Italian prima donna will give two grand concerts in this city on Friday and Saturday evenings, February 25th and 26th, at the Masonic Temple. She will be accompanied by the principal artists of the Academy of Music, New York. Public expectation has been aroused to an unwonted pitch by the sudden and unexpectedly brilliant career of this wonderful young lady, and it may be safely asserted that never was curiosty more gratified.

There is something peculisrly impressive in the fact that a young girl of little over twenty years of age should be destined to renew in Italy—the cradle of song—the popular outbursts which attended the advent of a Malibran or a Pasta; and that, for three years in succession, she should have eclipsed the efforts of Grisi and a Bosio; particularly when it is remembered the very short time she has been before the public has not permitted her to appeal to them on the bare merits of an excessively ornate style. M'lle Piccolomini's art efforts are, in truth, the result of pure inspiration, aided by a freshness of voice and a spontaniety of style rendered irresistible by the artless fascination of her by play.

That our citizens will give her a reception she will long remember we have not the slightest doubt, and we can only advise our readers to keep the guage of their enthusiasm below the explosive mark.

As we have before announced, the sale of seats will commence on Wednesday, February 23d, at 9 o'clock precisely, at the music store of D. P. Faulds & Co., Main street.

☞ There was a time when the term "patent medicine" was considered enough to condemn any article of the kind. Physicians declaimed against them as "secret nostrums," and the public were afraid to use them because they did not know their composition. But Dr. John Bull has effected a revolution in the trade. He proclaims openly to the world the component parts of his preparations, and the proportions in which they are combined. This manly course has disarmed even the prejudices of physicians themselves, and many of them now prescribe his Compound Pectoral of Wild Cherry, in affections of the throat and lungs, in preference to any prescription they can have prepared by a druggist. Those who try it once never abandon it for any other remedy.

☞ Dr. Stone gives his last entertainment at Masonic Temple to-night. Those who have attended and witnessed the Doctor's experiments on previous evenings will require no urging to go again, and those who have not been will lose a rare intellectual treat if they fail to go this evening. On Friday night last the Doctor's success certainly was most truly astonishing. Among the subjects operated upon was a well known professor of music of this city, who was made to believe himself a celebrated opera singer, and he entertained the audience highly by singing two or three beautiful ballads, accompanying himself upon an imaginary piano. Go early to-night and secure your seats.

STORM SATURDAY NIGHT.—Between 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday night, a frightful wind storm, followed by a heavy rain, visited this city. And although the wind howled in fury and great force, and the rain poured down in torrents, yet but trivial damage was occasioned thereby. A number of telegraph poles were prostrated, some trees blown down, shutters and signs released from their fastenings—and that was all.

As after a storm comes a calm, so the sun rose bright and clear yesterday, and barring the high wind, was a fair day—that is, as compared with the weather of a week past.

OVERFLOW IN THE OHIO RIVER.—La Belle Riviere is at flood hight now, and of course out of its banks. It is higher now than at any time since 1855. At this point the wharf from Second street to the canal is under water, including the Third street bridge across Beargrass. The water at dusk last evening was in the lower story of all houses below Fourth street, and the inhabitants have been compelled to flee to higher ground for safety. In our river news columns will be found full and interesting details.

BORIE'S CONFECTIONERY.—Our old friend, A. Borie, whose confectionery establishment is just across from our office, advertises candies, fruits, toys, etc. The candies manufactured at this establishment are in high repute in South and West, and we have every assurance that the proprietor will continue to make them as sweet as sugar.—The kisses, for which his store has also been famous, will, as heretofore, excel every body's, except those made by pretty women. Theirs, however, are not for sale; his are, and at low prices.

THE BUTCHERS' BALL AT MASONIC TEMPLE.—The managers of this affair, which takes place at Masonic Temple to-morrow night, intend that it shall be a splendid affair. The company will, we understand, be quite large, but not uncomfortably so. The purpose is to have the greatest amount of pleasure that can be derived from a festivity of the kind. What, with fine music, an elegant supper, pretty women, and plenty of them too, who won't go to the butchers' ball.

THE HALLOWED TWENTY-SECOND.—It is the wish of many of our citizens that business will be suspended to-morrow, the anniversary of the birth of Washington. We hope that it may be a day of rest, generally observed in the city, in honor of the Father of his Country. Those who are not patriotic enough to make the day a holiday in honor of Washington, should make it one of mourning for the convention to be held here in desecration of a day so sacred.

FALLS CITY WHITE LEAD.—Lindenberger & Co., wholesale druggists, 570 Main street, between Third and Fourth streets, inform the trade through the columns of the Courier that they can furnish Falls City Pure White Lead in packages to suit their patrons. This brand of white lead, which is their own manufacture, is conceded to be very superior, and has a large sale in this and other markets.

A FINE TROTTER SOLD.—Mr. W. D. Ranger, of Lexington, has sold his fine trotting horse "Ranger" to Mr. Ten Broeck, who proposes taking him to England. "Ranger" went it the fastest time of all last fall over the Southwestern Agricultural Fair Grounds near this city. The mile was trotted in 2:41, which, considering that the circle had to be traveled twice, and other disadvantages, made it equal to at least 2:36!

DISCHARGED TOO SOON.—Davis, who was arraigned before Judge Johnston, of the Police Court, for alleged horse stealing, and discharged the other day, it appears was a thief, in fact. A man arrived from Cloverport, who confirms the suspicion, and says the horse stolen by Davis belonged to him. But he was too late—the bird had flown.

INCENDIARISM AT PORTSMOUTH, VA.—The citizens of Portsmouth, Va., are deeply excited at the incendiarism in that city. A man named Grant and his accomplice, Reed, charged with the offence, have been arrested. An indignation meeting was held last week, and steps taken to prevent the recurrence of the scoundrelism.

☞ The late rains have washed several feet of the pavement and street, at the intersection of High and Twelfth streets, into the gulf below.—The Council, at its late meeting, passed a resolution directing the City Engineer to devise measures to prevent more of it following suit. His promp attention is certainly needed.

NOVEL MATCH AT HAMMOND'S PIT.—A fight is to take place between a tiger-cat from the mountains, and the imported bull-terrier "Noble," at Jesse Hammond's pit, on Tuesday evening, as will be seen per advertisement. The wild cat can there be seen in all its fierceness and fury, in combat with a noble specimen of the canine race.

BEHIND TIME.—The train on the Jeffersonville road, due yesterday morning, did not arrive until in the afternoon. We heard that the detention was caused by running off the track at Henryville, but are not informed as to the extent of injury done, if any.

☞ The telegraph was not working on Saturday night, or last evening, in consequence of the severe storm of Saturday night. The line is down in forty places or more between this city and Cincinnati.

KNOW NOTHING NOMINATIONS.—On Saturday night, the members of Jackson Council, in the First Ward, nominated Wm. White and Joseph Robb for Common Council, and Dr. J. A. Krack for School Trustee.

☞ There will be a meeting of the Directors of the "Kentucky Farmer's Mutual Insurance Company," at their office on Bullitt street, on Tuesday morning, the 22d inst., at 11 o'clock.—Business of importance will be before the meeting, and a full attendance is requested.

☞ Spring is almost with us, and as if in anticipation the weather last week was almost as warm as in May. It is altogether probable, however, that we may be favored with another cold snap before winter bids us a final adieu.

☞ The census of the city of New Orleans, taken a few days ago, shows the population of that city to consist of 116,257 whites, 13,774 slaves, and 8,276 free negroes. The total population is 138,277, of which 17,282 are voters.

☞ In the sale of books to-night, at the auction rooms of Messrs. S. G. Henry & Co., will be found a variety of German books. Also a number of executive documents, valuable to the politician.

FIGHT.—On yesterday evening, at the corner of Hancock and Market streets, a hackman by the name of Hartman attempted to flog a small boy for some trivial offense, when a "Butcher Boy" interfered and thrashed the hackman.

☞ An oration will be delivered by R. B. Pittman, of Boyle county, before the students of the Law School, at Mozart Hall, on Tuesday, the 22d inst., at 7½ o'clock P. M. d2*

DETAINED.—The train on the Nashville Railroad due at 5 P. M., on Saturday evening, did not arrive until 11 P. M. It was detained by the slipping in of a cut on Mildrough's Hill.

☞ An extra train went to Lexington, on Sunday, to carry two lady passengers, who were going to their father, Mr. Didlake, who is lying dangerously ill at that place.

ORATION ON THE TWENTY SECOND.—Mr. R. B. Pitman has been selected to deliver the annual oration of the law School, on the 22d of February. It will be delivered at Mozart Hall.

BURNED.—A stable, belonging to the Messrs. Duckwalls, in Portland, was burnt about 9 o'clock on Saturday night. The loss is trifling.

☞ The Whigs of Virginia have presented Robert Ridgway, Esq., of the Richmond Whig, with a service of plate valued at $500.

☞ Hon. Horace Maynard, of Tennessee, announces he is a candidate for re-election to Congress.

☞ Among the passengers by the Prince Albert, at New York, is the Hon. William Smith O'Brien, the Irish patriot.

☞ Our markets are already pretty well supplied with lettuce and redishes.

MEETING OF JEFFERSON STREET PROPERTY-HOLDERS.—The property-holders of Jefferson street, adverse to the railroad cars passing that street, hold a meeting to-night, as will be seen by this notice:

Notice is hereby given to all property-holders and business men on Jefferson street, from the railroad depot to the city lines, to meet at Schwind's tavern, on Jefferson, between Hancock and Clay streets, on Monday evening, the 21st of February, for the purpose of taking into consideration by what means we will get clear of said railroad coming through said street.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.—Mr. Ruben S. Price, of this city, received a letter from a relative yesterday, residing in Poweshiek county, which contained the following account of a horrible murder and suicide in Brooklyn, in that county. The letter is dated the 11th:

There was quite a serious affair happened at Brooklyn last evening. It appears that the evening before a man got out of the stage at Brooklyn. He said he held the post of Second Lieutenant at Fort Laramie, and was on his way to Washington City on furlough. He stopped at Dr. Conway's, and said he was afraid to go on to the city as some men were after him to take his life. It was soon ascertained that he had the delirium tremens. He stayed there all day, and about 5 o'clock in the evening, Ben Hawes, Cornelius Putnam, and one or two others were sitting in Conway's bar-room with him. He was walking about the room, when, without saying a word, the Lieutenant drew a pistol and shot Hawes through the heart. Hawes exclaimed, "O, my God!" and died instantly.

Putnam immediately caught the stranger around the arms and pushed him into the street, when the officer put a pistol to his own head and blew his brains out. He died without uttering a word. The papers found on his body showed that he was all be represented himself to be, that his name was J. B. Roane, and that he was a widower, and has a daughter about fifteen years old, who is residing in Richmond, Va. He appears to be about thirty-five years old. They will be buried to-morrow.

We have received an extra from the Montezuma Republican office verifying the above in ever particular. The same day this horrible affair occurred, Lieut. Roane sent the following note to the County Clerk:

THE CLERK OF THE COURT OF POWESHIEK:

Dear Sir: An officer of the army from Fort Kearney is here, and has been followed by assasins who intend at the first opportunity to kill him. I am the individual and overheard the arrangements. There is no joke in this, and any assistance you can render me will be thankfully received. The hearer can give you all information.—In haste. Yours, most respectfully,
J. B. ROANE.
Fourth Artillery.

THE ROCK ISLAND BRIDGE CONDEMNED.—Amos Stillman, City Engineer of Rock Island, has filed an affidavit in the office of the clerk of the county of Rock Island, to the effect that the Rock Island Railroad Bridge is unsafe for the passage of trains. A petition has been prepared, says the Islander and Argus, founded upon the affidavit of Mr. Stillman, and will be presented to the court at the March term, asking for an injunction to prevent trains passing over the bridge in consequence of its dangerous condition.

The same paper understands that suits were commenced on the 14th, in the Circuit Court against the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad Company, by W. F. Chadwick, Esq, attorney, in favor of the following named plaintiffs, for injuries done to steamboats at the Railroad Bridge:

George L. McClintock and others—Steamer Henry Graff	$10,000
Isaac H. Mason—Steamer Vixen	10,000
Robert Herdman and others—Steamer Arazonia	12,000
W. L. B. Jenks and others—Steamer Lucie May	6,000
Joseph W. Brown—Barge Thetis	3,000
John G. Irwine and others—Steamer Rescue	6,000
William Dorr—Raft	3,000
Henry A. Jones and others—Steamer Gen. Pike	5,000
P. S. Hurrell—Rafts	4,000
J. S. Hurd and others—Steamer Ella Alton	200,000
Total	$258,000

The Missouri and Mississippi United—The First Train Through from Hannibal.

Agreeable to expectation and announcement, both ends of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad were made to meet on Saturday evening last, the 12th inst., and the first through train from the Mississippi, Father of Waters, reached here on Tuesday evening, thus uniting by iron bands the two great rivers, and drawing the great West into the middle of civilization. St. Joseph is no longer in the West—that mystic region is now somewhere in the neighborhood of Pike's Peak and the Rocky Mountains. The first train brought legions of gold seekers from the North and East, who come as the pioneers and advance guard of thousands yet to follow.

This is a great event, and language is perfectly inadequate to speak of the rich future which is in store for the faithful.

Italy and Her Neighbors—Sinews of War.

In the days of the Cæsars Italy was bounded on the north by the Alps, on the east by the Adriatic, on the south by the Ionian, and on the west by the Mediterranean sea. The territory embraced within these limits made an area of 116,856 square miles, equal to three such States as Kentucky. Her people carried their victorious arms into every known land, and ruled in Europe, Asia, and Africa, with the pen and the sword. It was the garden of the world, the eye of the nations, the sovereign of sovereignties.

In these days of her glory, Italy, extending from the Alps on the north to the Ionian sea on the south, and from the Adriatic on the east to the Mediterranean on the west, was one country, ruled by one people. It was then in the zenith of Roman fame, and the historian Pliny estimated its extreme length from Augusta Prætoria, at the foot of the Alps, to Rhegium on the straits of Messina, at 1,020 miles, and its greatest breadth from the mouth of the Arsia, on the east, to that of the Varus, on the west, at 410 miles. The same writer puts down its population at 14,000,000, among whom were the poets, the orators, the historians, the philosophers, the statesmen, and the soldiers, whose fame will forever fill the world.

The Italy of the Cæsars, however, is now but a name. The same noble country is there, and the same sun, and moon, and stars, and deep blue sky, look down upon it from the eternal snows of Mont Blanc to the warm wave of Messina, and from the Mare Supernum to the mighty Mediterranean; but all else is changed. The people who dwell in her cities, and cultivate her fields, are no longer bound together by a common national tie. The centuries which have passed since the Illyrians, the Veneti, the Etrurians, the Greeks, and finally the Gauls joined the aboriginal Itali, to make up a common Latin race and tongue, have wrought mighty changes, and the centuries which are to come will bring about others. The generous soil and kind climate of the Peninsula have ever made it the prey of rival nations, and forever will. It has been under more rulers than any country on the globe, but its number of masters is not yet completed. The future has more than one rod of empire for the country that has ruled the world, and this history of the ruler of nations will not be closed until the nations have in turn ruled her.

The present state of things in Europe indicates that France, Austria and Sardinia, are struggling for empire in Italy. Napoleon III remembers that Napoleon I brought all of Italy under France during the first empire, and that all was lost in 1814. He has therefore consummated a marriage between the Prince Napoleon, a fifty year old blase, and the Princess Chiotilde, the fifteen year old child of the King of Sardinia. Victor Emanuel has no son who can inherit his throne, and as the Salic law is in force in his kingdom, his daughter cannot wear the crown of Sardinia. It is possible, therefore, that the understanding between the Emperor of France, the King of Sardinia, and the Prince Napoleon, is that the latter shall inherit the throne of Sardinia. Such being the fact, there are reasons for Sardinia, France and Austria to contend for dominion in Italy—the first to embody all the different divisions of Italy into one grand kingdom, as of old; the second to regain for the Napoleon family the empire once acquired by its founder; and the third to hold on to present possessions, if not to acquire others in the Peninsula. And if such are the designs and the understandings of these powers, it will be interesting to note the sinews of war with which they will begin operations. The following statistics, as to the military power of these rival countries, show that Italy will stand no chance, in her present dismembered state, and indicate that the other powers will have things their own way, if no outsider, such as Russia, Prussia, or England, shall interfere.

In 1854, the army of France consisted of 371,244 infantry, 71,031 cavalry, and 58,972 artillery, making in all 401,247. Since that time, the total number has been increased to near $600,000. At the same time, her navy consisted of 53 ships of the line, carrying 5,996 guns; 58 frigates, carrying 3,955 guns; 39 corvettes, carrying 868 guns, and 140 other vessels, carrying nearly 2,000 guns, making an aggregate of 290 vessels, carrying 11,733 guns. She also had a steam fleet, consisting of 3 ships of the line, 20 frigates, 30 corvettes, and 64 other vessels—in all 117, with an enrolled naval force of 100,000 men, besides 12,000 marines. Since that time she has built 150 steam vessels, thereby making the total number of her steamers 267—nearly equal to her sailing vessels. To sustain such an army and navy, France has a population of 35,779,222, and an annual revenue of $267,683,620, with an unlimited credit in the money market of the world.

Sardinia has an army of 140,000 men, and a navy consisting of 60 vessels carrying 900 guns. Her population is only 5,090,245, and her annual revenue about $25,000,000. She is a small power when taken alone, but when joined to France becomes mighty. Her army and navy would swell the fighting force of France to nearly 900,000 men, her navy to 620 vessels, her population to 40,000,000 and her annual revenue near $300,000,000. This would be the military force to contend with Austria for dominion in Italy. Let us then see how stands the war power of the latter country.

The population of Austria in 1854 was 36,514,466. If that of the Crown lands be added, the total would be about 48,000,000. Her standing army in time of peace numbers 414,000 men, and in time of war is increased to 639,659. Her navy consists of 6 frigates, 5 corvettes, 7 brigs, 66 smaller vessels, 11 steamers, and 9 gun boats; in all 104 vessels, carrying 742 guns. The annual revenue of this empire is $117,950,000.

It is evident, then, that if these three powers get to fighting about Italy, there will be terrible battles fought. The superior discipline of the French army, however, and the colossal navy at the command of Napoleon, leaves but little doubt as to which power could conquer. There is no telling, however, what might happen if all Italy should join Austria in such a conflict. As a matter of course Italy would stand no chance against the armies of either France or Austria, but if she should rise as in days of yore and join Austria, Napoleon would find his hands full.

Leaving Sardinia out of the estimate, the population of Italy would be about 20,000,000. This, however, is not an united, but rather an antagonistic, population. Instead of being under the command of a single sovereign, as in the days of the Cæsars, it is divided out under half a dozen Austrian-Italy, or the Lombardo-Venetian. Kingdom, contains 5,000,000, the Kingdom of Naples 9,000,000, the Pontifical States 3,000,000 the Grand Duchy of Tuscany 2,000,000, the Duchies of Parma and Modena 2,000,000, the Republic of San Marino 8,000, and the Principality of Monaco about the same number. It requires all these Kingdoms, Pontificates, Duchies, Republics, and Principalities, to make up Italy, and some of them are as hostile to one another as to any foreign power. It is not probable, therefore, that they would unite and fight as the old Romans did, in a common cause against a common foe.—King Bomba would demand one thing for Naples, Pius IX another for the Pontifical States, Ferdinand another for the Grand Duchy of Tuscany, the Dukes of Parma and Modena another for their Duchies, while the little Republic of San Marino and the Principality of Monaco would not be likely to agree with the policy of Lombardo-Venitia. France, moreover, has already a foothold in Rome, while Austria occupies Lombardy and Venice, and Sardinia is really a portion of the Peninsula. Under such circumstances it would be difficult for the Italians to determine which of the three powers they loved least or hated most—especially while they saw that each of them was trying to whip out the other and get the entire control of the country.

With the exception of the King of Sardinia and the Emperor of Austria, who hold the North of Italy, the other petty sovereigns who possess the remainder of the empire of the Cæsars can't raise a war-making revenue, nor muster a respectable Europeau army, nor float a commanding navy.—Naples, occupying the Southern portion, has a revenue of $20,000,000, an army of 106,000, and a navy of 40 vessels, manned by 6,000 sailors, and carrying six hundred guns The Papal States in the center have a revenue of $12,000,000, an army of 17,000, and a navy of two steamers and a few small vessels. The Grand Duhcy of Tuscany and the Duchies of Parma and Modena, all together, have a revenue of $8,000,000, an army of 25,000, and a navy of about 30 vessels, of an inferior size and character. The total revenue of Italy (Austrian and Sardinian Italy excepted) may therefore be put down at $40,000,000, its army at 148,000, and its navy at 80 vessels, poorly manned, and bearing only a few guns of an inferior size and quality.

We have thus gone over the military power of Italy, and her immediate though unneighborly neighbors.

It is evident that if they fight, there will be no child's play upon the tented field. It is equally evident that while they are at war, France can have but little to say about the United States and Cuba. Napoleon's hands will be full while coping with Austria; and England, Prussia and Russia will have enough to do to watch the progress of battle at home, without prying into what we are about over here in regard to Cuba.

Presidential—The Hon. James Guthrie.

The New Orleans Delta, of the 11th inst., has the following editorial in relation to our distinguished fellow-citizen, the Hon. James Guthrie, and the Presidency in 1860.

The name of James Guthrie, of Kentucky, has become quite prominent in the list of those whose fitness for the nomination at Charleston is beginning to be discussed by the politicians and the people. It is a name, however, which has more attractions to the latter than the former. Mr. Guthrie's administration of the Federal Treasury, always acknowledged to be of the most satisfactory and successful in the history of the Republic, has derived additional consequence and luster from the troubles and embarrassments that have possessed that department of the Government almost from the day he left it. We do not say, and do not believe, that these embarrassments are due to the present Administration, or that they could have been prevented by Mr. Guthrie, but some how or other the idea has taken strong hold upon the minds of the people that his skill, grasp of mind, admirable judgment and inflexible firmness, constitute such a rare combination of high qualities as would render his restoration to high Executive trust a great boon to the country. Mr. Guthrie is certainly a man such as our republic need in the present disordered condition of its finances.

Always and everywhere will James Guthrie be a leader, with the qualities of a leader. He is a self-made man, of great natural powers—strong, massive, granitic—he has graduated in that school which gives the best diplomas of capacity for high responsibilities in a Government like ours—the school of self-reliance—of constant effort, labor and intercourse with the hardy men who have built up the great West—the best type of the American race.

The Valley of the Mississippi has claims to the Presidency which it will be perilous for the nation and the Democracy to ignore, or treat otherwise than with careful deliberation and profound respect. It is very doubtful if the safety of the Democracy in its present perplexities does not lie in that great section. The growing tendency of the Atlantic seaboard to a timid and conservative policy is weakening the strongest ligaments which have hitherto held the Democracy together. When such a tendency predominates, the decline of the party will be as precipitate and complete as its rise heretofore has been rapid and its stability firm.

In this view, and without disparagement of other strong names that have been presented to the people, and without the slightest desire or intent to mingle in a strife of men for the prize which will be so warmly contested at Charleston a year hence, we cannot refrain from expressing our conviction that the late Secretary of the Treasury will present pretensions that will challenge a thorough canvass and engage the earnest support of many of the most judicious and sagacious of the Democracy.

THE NEW ORLEANS MURDER.—Fuentes, who murdered his mistress, Maria Rodriguez and escaped, was subsequently captured. The Picayune gives this account of his confronting her:

She was then asked whether she could recognize the man who had wounded her, and replying in the affirmative, was told to look around, and see if he was in the crowd. She gazed listlessly from face to face, until she reached the culprit, who stood there, silent and collected, though ashy pale. The expressive eyes of the dying woman fixed themselves on that face, and we could read the mingled emotions of fear, love and regret, moistening those brilliant orbs. She said 'twas the man, and his name Jose Maria Dolores de Fuentes.

The man himself questioned her, asking her whether he had inflicted all those wounds. "O, Fuentes," she exclaimed, "let your own heart answer, you cut my throat and struck my head against the door; that is all I recollect, for I fell senseless. I do not say that you used a hatchet, for the blow against the door stunned me. But I never gave you cause for this, Pepe; I never did anything against you."

When the prisoner was being taken away, she called out to him, "I made no complaint against you, Pepe; the Recorder came to question me and I had to tell the truth," and she again repeated these words to the clerk, asking him to tell Fuentes that she had no ill-feeling against him.

Time fails us to give an idea of the distressing scene, which brought tears to many an eye.

☞ It will be recollected that the Commissioner of Patents, a short time since, overruled the application of Mr. McCormick for an extension of his patent on reaping machines. He has written out at length his reasons for refusing a renewal. The patentee realized from his patents of 1845 and 1847 the sum of $1,297,915, which the Commissioner considers ample compensation for the ingenuity and trouble expended, taking into consideration the fact that the great feature of the patent of 1847 —the reaper's seat—is still the property of Mr. McCormick, and can be used only subject to his terms.

AFRED MARKS, Esq., says: "My wife has been sorely afflicted with Dyspepsia for the last year. During this time, she had used so many medicines which seemed to aggravate rather than remove the disease, that we almost despaired of her recovery. Living in the country, she enjoyed all the advantages of pure air and exercise, yet each day she seemed to be more enfeebled. With some difficulty, I persuaded her to take your Holland Bitters, which, I am happy to state, has completely cured her."

DIED,

On the 14th Feb., 1859, at the residence of Mrs. Mulholland, in Elizabethtown, Ky., MARY HALL, infant daughter of Wm. T. and Kate K. Samuels.

LOUISVILLE WHITE LEAD AND LINSEED OIL WORKS.

HAVING lately made some improvements in the manufacture of our white lead, we now offer to the trade our several brands of that article, which we warrant to be equal in quality to any made either East or West.

As we have every facility for obtaining our supplies of the raw material and for manufacturing the same, we are prepared to offer our articles on as good terms as any other manufacturer in the West.

We have now on hand and for sale;
5,000 kegs White Lead;
400 bbls Linseed Oil;
10 " Boil'd "
25 " Putty;
10 tons Zinc White in oil;
50 bbls French Zinc, dry;
100 " American Zinc, dry;
10 tons Bar Lead;
WATERS & FOX.

☞ Our attention has been called to an article of White Lead which is represented as being made in this city, and is branded "Premium Pure Falls City." As we are the only manufacturers of Lead in this city, we will say that the said Lead is not made here. But those wanting that quality of Lead we can supply with an article equal in every respect to the above brand of Lead at a price 20 per cent below that of the so-called manufacturers of that article. TO THE PUBLIC.

I CALL attention to the notice of the Peoria Insurance Company from the Chicago Daily Press and Tribune, which notice was voluntarily on the part of the editors, who know what they say to be true. Such evidence must put to blush the petty malice aimed at the Peoria Insurance Company by some malicious slanderers of our city. The Company has a paid capital of $300,000, and a surplus of $52,000. This surely is a sufficient guaranty to all who will insure. The business is very large and reliable. Reference to the only loss in Louisville for the last 12 months in the card of Wm. Musselman. I hereby invite those who want insurance to give me a call. The agency is now under the control of the underwriters of this city, but free and untrammelled. Risks taken on any sound judgment, and no loss occurs, it will be paid promptly. Marine policies issued and 10 per cent. premium retained on all insurance, to be settled by note every six months. JNO. B. McILVAINE,
Agent of the Peoria Fire and Marine Ins. Co.
At the office of J. B. McIlvaine & Son, No. 382 Main street, 1 door below Seventh.
LOUISVILLE, Feb. 21, 1859.

A CARD.

OUR tobacco factory was very near being destroyed by fire on the night of the 7th of January, on Main, near Ninth streets. The roof being partially burned, our boxes under press were removed in the street, and were partially damaged by the water and rough handling of the boxer. Mr. J. B. McIlvaine, the agent of the Peoria Insurance Company, came very promptly and ordered the roof to be repaired, &c. Arbitrators were mutually chosen, the damages satisfactorily arranged, and he has this day paid the damages in full, allowing claims for labor in protecting the house from the flames, and for removing the stock out and back into the house. And with promptness on the part of the agent, and on the part of the company in paying losses, I hope to see the Peoria office succeed to a good share of business in our city.
WILLIAM MUSSELMAN.
LOUISVILLE, January 20, 1859.

[From the Chicago Daily Free Press and Tribune, Feb. 12th, 1859.]

THE PEORIA MARINE AND FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.—It is with pride and pleasure that we ask the attention of our readers to the statement of this company in our columns this morning. It is the first detailed exhibit of the condition of any home company that we have ever seen, and compares most favorably with the statements of the best Eastern companies. Such an array of assets, amounting in all to $352,556 24, shows most conclusively that we have a company in our own State, as sound and as well managed as any other, no matter where located. As it regards its promptness and liberality in the settlement of its losses, no company has a better reputation. The Peoria Company is doing business in most of the Western and Southern States, including Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky, where it is obliged to file an annual statement of its condition and to comply with the same laws that are required of all Eastern companies. The fact that the company can comply with the laws of those States, which are regarded as very onerous by many companies, shows that it has the necessary capital, and as available assets as any other company, being subjected to the same provisions.

The Officers and Directors of this company are men of tried experience and unblemished integrity, and the success of the company proves that they have the requisite ability to manage the affairs of such an institution. One peculiar feature in this company, which places its stability and permanency beyond a doubt, is, that by provision of its charter, if by any means the capital of $300,000 should become impaired a single dollar, and should any policy be issued thereafter, the Directors render themselves personally liable for any loss that may occur.—As the Directors would not care to incur such a responsibility, and even if they did, as their aggregate wealth is quite large, the policy holders have an extra protection and safety by this provision of the Charter, which exists in but few if in any other company. Under the excellent supervision of J. Augustus Wright, its efficient and enterprising agent in this city, the company has done a large and very prosperous business the past season, and we trust and believe it will be still increased from year to year. We are decidedly in favor of patronizing our own companies when we know them to be sound and well managed like the "Peoria." We have had insurance in the Peoria Company for several years, so that we practice what we preach, and we cordially commend it to our friends and fellow-citizens generally.

XXXVth CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION.

Saturday's Proceedings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—HOUSE.—Mr. Hughes, of Indiana, called up the bill reported from the select committee appointed to examine the accounts and conduct of Mr. Hackley, the late doorkeeper, proposing to reform the abuses in the folding room. The House, on motion, tabled it, but adopted a resolution from that committee declaring that all extra copies of books and documents, divided equally among the members, are intended for gratuitous distribution to libraries and among the people, and any other disposition of the same meets the unqualified disapprobation of this House.

The consideration of the army bill was resumed in Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union.

From New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The steamer Marion, from Charleston, went ashore on the Jersey flats in the heavy fog that prevailed this morning.

The propeller Edinburg, from Glasgow, arrived this morning. Her dates have been anticipated.

The steamer Prince Albert, at St. John's, brings intelligence that the steamship Africa arrived at Liverpool at 9 o'clock on the evening of the 29th ult.

River and Weather.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 19, M.—It rained incessantly for the last 12 hours; rain falling in torrents.—The river has risen 6 feet in the last 24 hours, and now rising 2 inches per hour. There are now 44 feet water in the channel. The water is on the floors of the stores at the foot of Main street. A general overflow of the lower part of the city is apprehended. Thermometer 62, and quite sultry; wind direct south.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 19, M.—The river continues to rise at the rate of half an inch an hour, and is clear of ice.

The Missouri river is open to Weston, and rising fast.

The weather is alternately clear, and cloudy and sultry.

Compound Pectoral of Wild Cherry,

For the complete Cure of
COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, INFLUENZA, PAINS IN THE SIDE AND BREAST, SPITTING OF BLOOD, AND CONSUMPTION,

Is rapidly advancing in the estimation of the public. It is no empirical nostrum: its component principles are made known to the entire medical faculty. It is prepared accurately from the recipe of an experienced and talented physician, and has proved itself to be the greatest remedy for all diseases of the Lungs ever discovered; and wherever it has been introduced it has made cures which are perfectly astonishing. It is bound to supersede every other Cough Medicine before the public. Testimonials are daily being sent in to the proprietor, of cures effected even after physicians had abandoned every hope. A single trial will convince the most incredulous of its efficacy in curing that class of diseases for which it is designed. Why is it that so many die every year of Consumption, or some other disease of the Lungs? Because they neglect its sure forerunner—a "simple cold,"—which might be easily cured by the prompt use of a single bottle of Dr. John Bull's "Compound Pectoral of Wild Cherry." We say, therefore, Try it, by all means. If this does not cure you, nothing can.

Sold by all Druggists everywhere.
All Orders from Wholesale Purchasers, or applications for Agencies, must be addressed to
Louisville, Ky., or New York City.

THE FRESHET IN THE OHIO—THE HIGHEST WATER IN FIVE YEARS—TWENTY SEVEN FEET ON THE FALLS. THE WHARF AND THIRD STREET BRIDGE SUBMERGED.—The river up to five o'clock last evening had continued to rise at the rate of three inches per hour, or 6 feet in 24 hours, with fully 27 feet water on the falls. During the 24 hours ending with Saturday evening, the rise was also 6 feet, and 18 feet in the three days past. Last night the river was still steadily rising, though not as rapidly as during the day, the rise being a little less than two inches per hour.

The river is now much higher than it has been since 1854, with the water on the first floors of all the houses on Water street below Fourth in most of the cellars of the houses some distance up the cross streets. The only wharf visible, last evening, was the new Fultz wharf, extending along what was formerly Strader's row, from Third to First streets.

The Third street bridge is fully four feet under water, and at dusk last evening the river's surface was up to the flooring of the Second street bridge, and we think it will go under to-day.—Then the only dry landing will be at the new wharf, opposite First street. That is an excellent wharf, and we think the mail boat will be found there this morning.

The greatest excitement and confusion prevailed yesterday among the denizens along Water street, and on the cross streets in the vicinity of the river. They were all moving out, or hoisting their goods and chattels from their lower to their upper stories, and draymen and laborers were in great demand.

The Universe, which left Cincinnati at midnight on Saturday, arrived here last evening, and we learn from the captain that the river at that point was nearly to the top of the wharf, and rising at the rate of about four inches per hour. That will certainly keep the river rising here all day to-day, though not as fast as heretofore.

Capt. Sanders, of the Dove, who came down from Frankfort Saturday evening, reported the Kentucky river slowly falling at that point. It had been at flood high, but as it was then subsiding, it gives hopes that the rise at this point will not be much above its present altitude.

The river has covered the point, invading the lumber yards and saw mills, and flowing freely through the works of the rolling mill, and a further rise of five or six feet will be apt to float or carry off millions of feet of lumber, piled "over the Point."

The town of Shippingsport is under water, and at Portland last evening, the waters of the Ohio swept the curbing of the stores along Water street, while the back water was surrounding the town. At New Albany the river had risen to within three feet of the pavement in front of the Phœnix foundry.

Skiffs were in great demand yesterday, to remove parties from their houses to the streets, or from boat to boat in front, with but very little business doing, and no movement in freights.

The river last night was rising about one inch and a half per hour, and was then within a little over six feet of the paper mill.

The encroachments of the river among the cellars and warehouses along Fourth street, caused the removal of the groceries, goods, and produce stored away. Timely removal saved all from damage, and we have heard of no serious losses. Messrs. Newcomb & Bro. moved from their cellars 600 hhds of sugar, and Sherley, Bell & Co., and others, were compelled to haul off some 300 hhds of salt stored in the alley between Third and Fourth streets. Clifford & Co., Moorhead & Co., Fenton & Glore, and others were hard at work all day removing potatoes, hay, and other produce, to the upper stories of their warehouses. All the denizens along Water street have been compelled to go higher, and the Gas Company shut off the gas all along the river, and dismantled the gas posts.

The river is now several feet higher than at any time since 1851, now nearly five years. Then the river commenced rising very rapidly on Wednesday, the 5th of March, with very heavy rains, and on Friday, the 10th, it was raining and rising at the rate of 3 inches per hour. On Saturday the water was on the first floor of I. S. Moorhead's store, on Wall street, and on Sunday there were 36 feet water on the falls. The next day the river commenced falling, followed by cold weather and ice. The river now is not as high as it was then by 6 or 8 feet. In the memorable floods of '47 and '52, the river for 48 consecutive hours rose 4 inches per hour.

There was a high wind and storm Saturday night, on the river, which tore the High Flyer and Lady Pike from their moorings, at Portland, and carried them below New Albany. In their course they struck the Bowling Green, breaking her water-wheel, guards, and pitman. The Lady Pike soon had steam up, and towed the High Flyer up to Jeffersonville.

The weather was cold and clear last night, with no doubts of frost, which will have a tendency to check the rise in the river.

At 10½ o'clock last night the water was beating against the flooring of the Second street bridge.

The Dove, yesterday morning, was taken over to Jeffersonville, and laid up until the waters subside.

The Antelope, Capt. Brown, will be at the wharf to-day, and take her departure to New Orleans to-morrow Tuesday.

The John Raine is discharging her cargo at the foot of Ninth street.

☞ The Jacob Strader, Saturday, had among her freight another L. tta steam fire engine, purchased by the city for the fire department. It looks to be a perfect, compact, stout machine, without a name. Call it "Brother Cradford."

☞ The Strader, Saturday, had a heavy cargo, including 120 tons of pig iron, and to Wash. Gough, the assistant clerk, we are indebted for a manifest.

EXPORTS PER DIANA.—To J. W. Forsee, clerk of the Diana, we are indebted for the following list of her cargo for New Orleans forwarded from Cairo. She has 900 tons, and was at Cairo Thursday morning: 821 tierces lard; 1,583 kegs do; 1,566 bbls pork; 134 casks meat; 60 hhds tobacco; 200 tierces hams; 431 bbls flour, 100 boxes candles; 187 sacks corn 170 bbls whisky, 30 pieces bagging; 100 bales hay; 14 bbls ale; 115 beef cattle; 3000 fuel baskets coal; 80 cabin passengers.

☞ The famous High-Flyer resumes her place in the St. Louis trade on the 1st of March, on Tuesday—her regular day.

☞ Among the arrivals at New Orleans on the 17th, was the Madison. The departures for the Ohio included the Fred Tron, Robt. J. Ward and Flora Temple. The last is an outsider.

THE NEW COAST PACKET.—Capt. Wm. C. Hite, who is superintending the construction and outfit of the new boat for Capt. Cotton for the New Orleans and Bayou Sara mail trade, was over at New Albany Saturday, and we learn from him that the work on the boat is being rapidly completed. Her immense chimneys were ready to be elevated, and will be put up to-day, and she will be ready to start South on her first trip between the 10th and 15th of March.

Capt. Hite has received unlimited orders to make the new boat the finest and the most complete passenger packet built since the advent of the great Eclipse. Her rooms will be sumptuously provided, and the painting and ornamental works of the cabin the finest ever seen.

BOATS TO BE SOLD.—The little Bowling Green, as she lies at Portland, is to be sold at Marshal's sale to-day.

THE Jesse K. Bell, at Cincinnati, is to be sold to-morrow.

☞ The Moderator, Altamont and Maclay have all departed from St. Louis for the Ohio.

COLLISION.—Last week a couple of Illinois river boats came into collision, by which the guards of both were smashed.

☞ The John Raine, of the splendid Lightning Line fleet, arrived from New Orleans early Saturday morning, with a heavy load—fully 500 tons—of sugar and molasses for this port. She lost 18 hours in fog in the Ohio river. Her manifest we published several days ago.

Owing to the rapid rise of the river, which submerged the wharf, the freight of the Raine was discharged but very slowly, and Capt. Underwood will hardly be able to return South this evening.

☞ The late rains and warm weather have been general all over the West and South, as well as this region. The Missouri is open and free of ice to St. Joseph, the Illinois to Peoria, and the Mississippi rising fast at all points. All these rivers rising at once, together with the present freshet in the Ohio, will be very likely to cause another flood in the Lower Mississippi, and prove disastrous to farmers and planters in all directions.—The Arkansas river is also reported rising, with several days rain along its banks, and the people on the coast had better prepare for the flood.

☞ The Nashville papers give the particulars of the loss of the Quaker City by fire at that port. She was burned to the hull, together with 14 bales of cotton. It is supposed that the boat took fire from the deck stove pipe which extends through the washroom, next the ladies cabin.

FOR THE EAST.—The low pressure Jacob Strader is the mail and passenger packet for Cincinnati and the East, at noon, to-day. She travels at locomotive speed, has good officers, and can accommodate 300 passengers. The attentive clerk, R. S. Dunning, is prepared to give through tickets.

☞ The Bracelet, from Bowling Green, reports Green river at flood hight and rising. She has a good frieght, including the shoulders of 2,000 hogs, and to Mr. Edwards, the clerk, we are indebted for a manifest.

She discharged considerabie freight at Evansville for New Orleans, and we learn that there are 1,000 molasses barrels at that point, for the coast, to be filled with molasses for a house in this city.

☞ The Tempest, Capt. Parr, from Nashville, as will be seen by our especial dispatches, passed Evansville Saturday. She was due last night.

MAIL PACKET FOR MEMPHIS.—The Moses McLellan, Capt. Erwin, is the regular mail and passenger packet for Cairo and Memphis to-day. She starts at 4 o'clock, from the upper wharf, taking passengers and mail to thirty-two landings on the Lower Ohio, to Cairo, and landing at all points below to Memphis. The officers are courteous and attentive, the clerk, John Woolfolk, being one of the most proficient in the trade. Passengers and shippers will find him always at his post, polite and attentive.

☞ The Magnolia, Saturday, while discharging, lost a barrel and a half barrel of molasses overboard. The barrel was fished out empty.

ANOTHER CLIPPER FOR THE SOUTHERN TRADE.—Capt. John Cannon, of the Vicksburg, has finally closed his contracts for a new boat for the cotton trade between new Orleans, Vicksburg, and "the bends." He at first contemplated building a light, short boat, but hearing that the New Orleans and Vicksburg Mail Line had determined to "run him out,' he has concluded to build a clipper that wont be very easily run out. She is to be 250 feet in lenght, with 40 feet beam, and a model expressly for speed. The engines are to be each 34 inches in diameter, with 10 feet stroke—the largest on the river. She is to have 7 double flued boilers, each 40 inches in dismeter, and 30 feet in length. It is stated that Lent, South & Shipman are to build the machinery.

Capt. Holmes, as we have already stated, changed the dimensions of his new mail packet building at Cincinnati. She is to be 275 feet in length, and her cylinders will be 36 inches in diameter.

☞ The Alonzo Child, Capt. Holland, has withdrawn from the South, and gone into the Missouri river trade again.

☞ Capt. Geo. W. Norton, of Wheeling, was in the city Saturday.

☞ The Pacific and Woodford, from New Orleans, are due to-day.

☞ The Empress, having been delayed by bad weather, and a wharf knee deep in mud, was not able to get her freight on board till yesterday. She started to New Orleans about noon.

☞ The Scioto No. 2, is the packet for Henderson and all way places this afternoon. She is in charge of Capt. Ballard, with Jerome Duncan in the office.

XXXVth CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION.

Friday's Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, January 18th, 1859.—SENATE.—The only business of interest during the morning hour, was the report made by Mr. Polk, of Mo., for the Committee on Foreign Relations, to pay Mr. Squire, late Charge d'Affairs to Guatamala, $4,500 as a compensation for extra services. The bill provoked much discussion, both for and against it.

Mr. Hunter, of Va., endeavored to have the Consular, and Diplomatic Appropriation bill taken up, but the motion was defeated.

The private calendar was taken up by a vote of yeas 29, nays 21.

After the consideration of a few private bills, an important special message was received from the President, asking Congress to confer upon him power to use the army and navy to protect the transit route. It was partially debated by Messrs. Clingman, Benjamin, Douglas and Davis, more or less in favor; and by Seward and Fesseden, thoroughly against it.

Without action, the Senate adjourned.

EVENING SESSION.

The Senate, after the discussion of a few private pension bills, received a message from the President, which is given below in detail. A partial debate took place on a motion to refer the message to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Clingman, of N. C., and Mr. Benjamin, of La., spoke briefly in support of the views of the message.

Mr. Seward, of N. Y., considered that it was a sad sight to see the President of the United States asking Congress to confer on him the war-making power, in order to assimilate his functions to those of European governments. The passage of a bill granting the President such power as he asks would be a virtual surrender of the powers of Congress, and in opposition to the express precepts of the Constitution.

Mr. Fessenden, of Maine, expressed similar views, and cited the Paraguary expedition, which was to consist of a single ship, and is now an armada of twenty sails, to show how the President might plunge the nation into war. The President now comes forward and asks for general power. It would be more rational to take initiatory steps at once to have a king, than blindly to confer absolute power on a President.

Mr. Douglas, of Ill., was glad that the President had called attention to this subject. He considered that the President should have power to keep open the transite route to our citizens and commerce. Moreover, he ought to be invested wite power, to summarily enforce redress for any outrages on our flag, our citizens, or our property, whenever it may occur. The executive of every other nation has it. Mr. Douglas did not mean to give a special vote of confidence in the present executive, but he was content to entrust that power to him and his successors, in all time. Our policy is to make the executive strong abroad; to make the American name respected, but not unduly to increase the executive power within the United Stnes. He hoped this message would originate a more vigorous and efficient foreign policy.

Mr. Davis, of Miss., could not concur in the doctrine of the Senator from Illinois to its full extent. There is no foreseeing to what limit it might not extend, if urged by ambition or by any other feeling That we want to invest the Executive with more power than our forefathers gave, only marks the decedance of the American people. Mr. Davis would prefer the delay of Congressional action, to the surrender of a great constitutional principle; but he did not understand the President as asking for undue or irresponsible powers. The transit route was constructed by American citizens, with American capital, and is, therefore, an exceptional case. Mr. Davis would grant the Executive the power he asked, but would limit it to the special case, which is known to exist

Several Senators proposed to adjourn, whereupon Mr. Green said this was one of the most important messages ever before the Senate, and ought to be carefully understood, he would, therefore defer his remarks—and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Davis, of Miss., replied that the people of his State were able to defend themselves without arms, against northern or foreign invaders with arms.

Mr. Comins said that he did not mean to reflect upon the people of Mississippi.

Mr. Washburne of Ills., moved an amendment protecting military reservations from trespass, and stated that the Rock Island reservation was being stripped of its timber and despoiled of its value, and that the War Department was making no adequate effort to protect it. After some debate the amendment was rejected.

The House went into a Committee of the Whole on the Army Appropriation bill.

Mr. Staunton, of Ohio, offered an amendment to strike out the appropriation for recruiting, by which he proposed to test the sense of the members as to whether they were in favor of a reduction of the army.

During the debate, Mr. Lovejoy, of Ills., said that he wanted to put the army between the horns, so as to have merely a skeleton hung up for the study of practical anatomy. He was creditably informed, and believed that the army was used to get up Indian wars, and establish garrisons to advance the price of town lots. Some months ago, there was a just cry against the Mormons, and it was urged that they should be exterminated, merely because they preferred white concubines to black. Laughter.) He was proceeding to reply to Mr. Letcher's remarks of yesterday, when he was called to order by Mr. Phelps, of Mo., for irrelevancy. Mr. Lovejoy said that the point of order always comes from the vast deep when the harpoon touches the blubber.

Mr. Phelps, joining in the laughter, said that he had only insisted on an observance of rules.

Mr. Staunton's amendment was rejected. Yeas 35, nays not counted.

Mr. Comins, of Mass., said that he did not desire our army to be like the militia of Mississippi, which, according to an editor of that State, had an abundance of officers, but no arms or privates.

Mr. Faulkner offered an amendment cutting off the brevet pay. He said that there exists throughout the country a strong impression that the brevet rank is demoralizing and leads to subserviency and favoritism.

Mr. Bonham, of S. C., trusted that this step would not be taken, as it would cut down the pay of the general commanding, Lieutenant General Scott, who had fairly won every dollar that had been bestowed on him.

The amendment was rejected—yeas 40, nays 80. The other amendments were acted on, and the committee rose.

Mr. Nichols asked leave to offer the following: Whereas, in the correspondence of the New York Daily Times, of the 16th of February, signed S, and also in the correspondence of other papers, it is charged that a member of the Committee on Accounts made a bargain to receive money as a consideration for passing certain claims thereof, and that subsequently the said member demanded money for his service, and

WHEREAS, it is further alleged that a member of the same committee compelled claimants to agee to give a portion of the appropriation in the bills passed before the committee, in consideration for their allowance. Therefore,

Resolved, That a committee of four be appointed to investigate the said charges, and report before the close of the present session.

Mr. Burnett, of Ky., was tired of investigations of committees which resulted in nothing. He was, however, in favor of examining into charges of corruption, implicating members of the House, but in the present case, he raised a question of order, viz: That no specific charge has been made against any member by name.

The Speaker decided that the resolution was in order.

Mr. Letcher of Va., suggested a committee of one, who could sooner get through the business than four.

Mr. Sickles, of N. Y., understood that the evidence on which the Times' articles is based, amounts to this: A man who wrote a letter a year ago exonerating every one from blame, now made an affidavit that his former staement was false.

Mr. Bonham, of S. C., wanted the name of the member.

Mr. Nichols said the name of the member was mentioned in the Times article.

The resolution was unanimously adopted, and the House adjourned.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The ball to Lord Napier took place at Willard's Hotel last night. The room was handsomely decorated with the flags of all nations, and at the end of the room full-length portraits of Victoria and Gen. Washington were suspended. The ball was opened by Lord Napier and Madame Van Limburgh, and Mr. Seward and Mrs. Conrad were then vis a vis. Gen. Cass and Lady Napier entered the room together. The supper room was opened at 11 o'clock. Col. Orr accompanied Lady Napier in to supper, followed by Senators Mason, Gwin and Seward, who were accompanied by ladies. Lord Napier accompanied Madame Sartiges, and Count Sartiges accompanied Mrs. Gwin. Twelve hundred people were present.

The President transmitted to the House a message similar to that sent to the Senate, asking Congress to entrust him with extraordinary powers for the protection of the lives and property of American citizens, but it was not laid before the former body. It took the Senators, generally, by surprise.

The large number of the general appropriation bills yet to be acted upon, including those for the army and navy, post office, miscellaneous, and ocean mail service, which, together with the measures for relieving the Treasury, and other subjects, will have to be crowded into as many hours usually devoted to legislation as there should be days, for their intelligent consideration.

There is a strong probability that the Committee of Ways and Means will report one or more bills next Monday. The indications are more favorable that a revised tariff will pass the House, at least the Senate is more doubtful.

It is said that Mr. Phelps is determined to launch his bill and trust to the current of the House.

The Morrill bill in many of its specific duties, places part of the duty on weight and part on value—thereby obviating the usual objections made by the enemies of specifics, that the poor man pays as much duty under them, on his clothes, as the rich man does on his.

Under this bill the duties are much fewer on low priced than on fine goods. The same principle prevails on cottons, silks and linens, the common qualities thus paying less than those which are more expensive.

It is said that experienced men concede that it can be executed at much less per annum than the present revenue law. They estimate that on an average importation of goods, which, under the present tariff, would value $48,000,000, and in Mr. Morrill's bill would realize much more, its average rate of duties will be less than the average end in the tariff of 1856, but will, it is claimed, be more satisfactory in its discriminations to the various interests of the country. Such are the representations of its friends.

The President's Message to Congress.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The President to-day transmitted a message to Congress, as follows:

To the Senate and the House of Representatives.

—The brief period which remains of your present session, and the great urgency and importance of legislative action before its termination, for the protection of American citizens and their property while in transit across the Isthmus routes between our Atlantic and Pacific possessions, render it my duty again to recall this subject to your notice. I have heretofore presented it in my annual message, both of December, 1857 and 1858, to which I beg leave to refer. In the latter, I state that the Executive Government of this country, in its intercourse with foreign nations, is limited to the employment of diplomacy alone; where this fails, it can proceed no further. It cannot legitimately resort to force without the direct authority of Congress, except in resisting and repelling hostile attacks. It would have no authority to enter the Territories of Nicaragua, even to prevent the distruction of the transit and to protect the lives and property of our citizens on their passages. It is true, that on a sudden emergency of this character, the President would direct any armed force in the vicinity to march to their relief, but in doing this he would act upon his own responsibility. Under these circumstances, I earnestly recommend to Congress the passage of an act authorizing the President, under such restrictions as they may deem proper, to employ the land and naval forces of the United States, in preventing the transit from being obstructed or closed by lawless violence, and in protecting the lives and property of American citizens traveling thereupon; requiring at the same time that these forces shall be withdrawn the moment the danger shall have passed away. Without such a provision our citizens will be constantly exposed to interference in their progress and to lawless violence. A similar necessity exists for the passage of such an act for the protection of the Panama and Tehuantepec route.

Another subject, equally important, commanded the attention of the Senate at the last session of Congress. The republics South of the United States on this continent, have, unfortunately, been frequently in a state of revolution and civil war, ever since they achieved their independence, as one or the other party has prevailed and obtained possession of the ports opened to foreign commerce. They have seized and confiscated American vessels and their cargoes, in an arbitary and lawless manner, and exacted money from American citizens by forced loans and other violent proceedings, to enable them to carry on hostilities.—The executive government of Great Britain, France and other countries, possessing the war making power, can promptly employ the necessary means to enforce immediate redress for similar outrages upon their subjects.

Not so the Government of the United States.—If the President order a vessel of war to any of these ports to demand prompt redress for outrages committed, the offending parties are well aware that, in case of refusal, the commander could do no more than remonstrate. He can resort to no hostile act. The question must then be referred to diplomacy, and in many cases adequate redress can never be obtained. Thus American citizens are deprived of the same protection, under the flag of their country, which the subjects of other nations enjoy. The remedy for this state of things can only be supplied by Congress, since the Constitution has confided to that body alone the power to make war. Without the authority of Congress the Executive cannot lawfully direct any force, near, it may be, to the scene of difficulty, to enter the Territory of Mexico, Nicaragua, or New Granada, for the purpose of defending the persons and property of American citizens, even though they may be violently assailed while passing in peaceful transit over the Tehauntepec, Nicaragua or Panama routes. He cannot, without transcending his constitutional power, direct a gun to be fired into a port, or land a seaman or marine to protect the lives of our countrymen on shore, or to obtain redress for a recent outrage on their property. The banditti which infest our neighboring Republic of Mexico, always claiming to belong to one or the other of the hostile parties, might make a sudden descent on Vera Cruz, or the Tehuantepec route, and he would have no power to employ the force on ship-board, in the vicenity, for their relief, either to prevent the plunder of our merchants, or the obstruction of the transit route. In reference to countries where the local authorities are strong enough to enforce the laws the difficulty here indicated, can seldom happen; but where this is not the case, the local authorities do not possess the physical power, even if they possess the will, to protect our citizens within their limits. Recent experience has shown that the American Executive should itself be authorized to render this protection. Such a grant of authority, thus limited in its extent, could, in no just sense, be regarded as a transfer of the war-making power to the Executive, but only as an appropriate exercise of that power by the body to whom it exclusively belongs. The riot at Panama in 1856, in which a great number of our citizens lost their lives, furnishes a pointed illustration of the necessity which may arise for the exertion of this authority. I, therefore, earnestly recommend to Congress, on whom the responsibility exclusively rests, to pass a law before their adjournment, conferring upon the President the power to protect the lives and property of American citizens in the cases which I have indicated, under such restrictions and conditions as they may deem advisable. The knowledge that such a law exists would of itself go far to prevent the outrages which it is intended to redress, and rend r the employment of force unnecessary. Without this, the President of the United States may be placed in a painful position before the meeting of the next Congress. In the present disturbed condition of Mexico, and one or more of the other Republics South of us, no person can foresee what occurences may take place before that period. In case of emergency, our citizens, seeing that they do not enjoy the same protection with subjects of European governments, will have just cause to complain. On the other hand, should the Executive interfere, and especially should the result prove disastrous and valuable lives be lost, might subject himself to severe censure for having assumed a power not confided to him by the Constitution.

It is to guard against this contingency that I now appeal to Congress. Having thus recommended to Congress a measure which I deem necessary and expedient for the honor of the country, I leave the whole subject to their wisdom and discretion.

(Signed) JAMES BUCHANAN.

1859. SPRING! 189.

OUR stock for the approaching season offers inducements to purchasers visiting our market, which have never been equalled hitherto.

In consequence of the demise of our late partner, Mr. S. Lœwenthal, and in order to come to a clear settlement with the administrator and heirs of Mr. Lœwenthal's estate, we have been obliged to dispose of our entire stock on hand, and start afresh with a selection of which have just been gotten under the superintendence of our Mr. Oberndorfer, in New York. In the

SPRING AND SUMMER GARMENTS

it is an entirely new feature to find a new and select stock that does not show the traces of inexperience. Our Mr. Oberndorfer, however, is not only acquainted with the Eastern markets, but he combines therewith a thorough knowledge of our home wants, and has thus been enabled (in taking the place of the late deceased Lœwenthal) to get up an assortment that will at once convince every judge that fitness for our market, taste, variety and cheapness, have all been held strictly in view during the process of manufacture.

A complete assortment of Furnishing Goods always on hand. C. LICHTEN & CO.,
